

Hundreds of community technology center youth have used the Faces of Tomorrow project to document their thoughts, record images of their lives, celebrate the future, and show who they are.

As the ongoing project of Boston CyberArts, Inc., over 500 youths have combined art and technology to become Cyberartists. They are using the tools of today to explore themselves and their futures while learning advanced graphic design and capturing their visions and ideas through portraiture.

For more information, contact Jennifer at info@cyberfaces.org.

The CTC VISTA Project
Boston, MA 02125-3393